

Dear Dr Wooten,

This is long overdue but I just wanted to express my gratitude to you for everything you have done for me since my diagnosis of breast cancer in the summer of '08. I was truly impressed the first time I met you in your office although I was not even on your schedule, but fit me in to explain different types of breast reconstruction and what breast implants entailed. At time I was beside myself and didn't know what option to choose after being told I needed a mastectomy with a DCIS diagnosis. Your calming bedside manner and confidence in what you do made me choose the implant route. The process of surgery was not bad and you answered my thousand questions with professionalism and humor. Thanks for easing my mind so many times, including your calls while driving or after hours. I highly recommend you to anyone with a similar prognosis. You made a "terrible news day" turn into something bearable and livable. Please use my name for any of your patients in the same boat, or give me their number and I'd be glad to ease them through the process. I actually looked forward to our visits because I knew my fears and questions would be answered, and you were always correct in what you stated. Never misleading, which is a best attribute in a doctor a patient could have. I promise to come visit you in your new office (although you're probably glad to get rid of me with my notebook of questions, hee,hee) but I figure an informed decision is a good one.

Thank you for everything,

SL
